

ITWorx-Thomson Reuters Wealth Management Solution

The ITWorx-Thomson Reuters Wealth Management Solution is an end-to-end wealth management solution that delivers financial and other corporate market data and news. The solution leverages Reuters Knowledge Direct (RKD) proprietary content and capabilities with seamless integration.

Online Research and Analytic Content

The ITWorx-Thomson Reuters Wealth Management Solution is the ideal solution for financial market professionals seeking to develop data-rich portals, such as online investment, advisor, and internal bank/brokerage employee portals, as well as customer-facing websites for consumer banking or wealth advisories, while fully embracing the potential of e-services and e-platforms. By employing its technological expertise and capabilities, ITWorx portals and websites will deliver the RKD content you need, at the exact time you need it, and in the online format you prefer.

What is Reuters Knowledge Direct?

Reuters Knowledge Direct for Wealth Management (RKD – WM) is a product line which provides direct access to Thomson Reuters content.

RKD – WM gives you access to a world of information, including global real-time exchange and OTC data, market leading news, company fundamentals, and consensus estimates reports. Whether it's an advisor solution, an investment portal, or an online trading platform, you can integrate the data of your choice. Your customers will be armed with the insight they need to make the right investment decisions and your costs will be carefully managed.

Why ITWorx?

Expert Development

Fully utilizing its web services expertise and extensive experience, ITWorx is able to deliver tangible and rich solutions with enterprise-class performance. With technical flexibility and adept manipulation of cutting-edge technology, ITWorx can accommodate your environment and data delivery format.

Fast Deployment

ITWorx innovation and technical know-how guarantee a portal that is up and running within a short timeframe, increasing time-to-benefit. Once you identify the market insight your customers and advisors need, ITWorx will provide this critical and time-sensitive data quickly with limited hardware and software investments, if any.

Seamless Integration

To facilitate integration with your services, ITWorx uses a non-invasive approach to display the data of your choice within your existing platform with absolutely no changes or additions, thus preserving your business applications' performance and reliability. This is also true for enterprises that depend on legacy computer systems and need to integrate these systems with new e-business infrastructure.

Full-Fledged Customization

Appreciating custom requirements in a dynamic, content-rich portal, ITWorx provides complete custom design, with a consistent look-and-feel to reflect corporate identities and an intuitive user interface for easy navigation and data access. ITWorx also offers bilingual support to accommodate unique business needs and culture.

Ongoing Support and Online Follow-up

ITWorx resilient support team quickly and easily manages issues with due importance and urgency. By maintaining a production like environment to address issues or problems, ITWorx avoids disruption of the actual production environment. ITWorx further provides online professional support and follow up to ensure a high level of performance and reliability at all times.
